

BUILDING LEADERS FOR TOMORROW

Feed the Streetz Outreach Intern Program

Feed the Streetz Outreach is an organization dedicated to ultimately being youth advocates for homelessness prevention by first addressing food insecurity through meal distribution projects. This is but the first part to figuring out what a family and/or youth needs to sustain a true healthy lifestyle. In addition, we collaborate with partners to provide resources to families that may be on the verge of homelessness for various reasons with the hopes we can reach the youths of these same homes to provide them community/volunteer experiences, host intimate youth related activities, and ultimately extending the goal to provide them long term experiences that can alter their perspective & self-determination to aim for a true sustainable lifestyle as they advance through the latter of adulthood. All while, creating a system (that can potentially be replicated) in which we can demonstrate to smaller organizations & profit businesses that align with our objectives on the “how to expand”; cultivating an atmosphere of unity versus competition. About Building Leaders for Tomorrow:

The Building Leaders For Tomorrow Internship Program provides a learning opportunity for currently enrolled undergraduate students at an accredited college/university in the United States. Interns become actively involved in FTS community outreach schedules, logistical operations, research & development efforts, marketing campaigns, and/or administrative positions.

Interns work 20-30 hours per week for a maximum of 12 weeks. Each placement is designed to help our interns gain experience related to their education and career goal. Daily duties will be individually crafted to each intern dependent on major of study and the completion of orientation. Internships are unpaid. Transportation is required to participate in our program unless specifically seeking a field in analytical reporting, business development research, and marketing. FTS does not provide housing or a stipend.

All interns will be required to complete a project as it relates to the monthly objective, volunteer in three scheduled service projects, and commit to mentorship oversee by a board member in the organization. Feed the Streetz Outreach will work with students/schools to document both internship/community service hours for intent to gain university/college credit.

FTS organization was craftly built and structured based on the skill set of our stakeholders. We believe in order to see a person at their best we must place them in a area of interest that relates to both major and personal experiences. This will allow a student to experience a true schedule in a particular career that encourages commitment to personal long-term endeavors.
